Promote new consumer web site portal WisconsinDiabetesInfo.org	Before next meeting in July, team members will brainstorm on ways to promote the new web portal.	All committee members to share ideas at the July meeting.		Include information on new web portal in Diabetes Weekly updates.	Increased awareness and use of DPCP resources.
As above - Promote new consumer web site portal: WisconsinDiabetesInfo.org	Suggest phone conference August or September to discuss further. By October meeting, group will be able to review link descriptions and make recommendation on which ones to use. Also review any sample table tents or additional handouts.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Each member to review web site and links. Goal is to determine how we may best describe each link in a way that will encourage viewers to utilize them. 2. Develop sample descriptions for links 3. Brainstorm on table tents or other 		Assistance in setting up a conference call in August or September. After the conference call, we could ask each member to send their ideas/link descriptions to one person who will type them up for the next meeting. The group could review them all and recommend one or several that seemed most useful. I would be happy to do that if needed.

		handouts that can be used in workplace or provider offices
Create suggested resource lists and/ or lesson plans for various specific diabetes topics	Before next meeting in July, team members will review the new web portal and begin to create suggested reading/resource lists for diabetes related topics.	All committee members to share this information at July meeting	Will need someone to assist in linking suggested reading/resource lists to the web portal.	First - need to know if what we are envisioning is possible with our current web portal.	Facilitate easy access to information and promote use of available resources in healthcare and private settings.
