

Coalition of Wisconsin Aging Groups
Advocacy ■ Membership ■ Elder Law

News Release

2850 Dairy Dr.
Madison, WI 53718
608-224-0606 ext. 326
www.cwag.org

For Immediate Release: June 11, 2007
Contact: Glenna Schumann
Family Care Consumer Corps Training Coordinator
608-221-6120

*Securing the present
and protecting the future.*

CWAG to Hold Family Care Consumer Corp Training in Milwaukee

(Madison, WI) –Registrations are currently being accepted to attend the Coalition of Wisconsin Aging Groups’ Family Care Consumer Corps Training on June 27 at the Washington Park Library, 2121 N. Sherman Blvd. in Milwaukee.

The Coalition of Wisconsin Aging Groups (CWAG), under a grant from the Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services will provide this free training from 9:30 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. The training will focus on options for long-term care for older people and people with disabilities through the implementation of the Family Care Program within Milwaukee County. Lunch and training materials will also be provided at no cost. If you need special accommodations, please call 800-366-2990 ext. 326.

Family Care is a comprehensive and flexible long-term care service system, which strives to foster people's independence and quality of life, while recognizing the need for interdependence and support. Currently being piloted in five Wisconsin counties, Governor Doyle has made a commitment for Family Care to be implemented statewide in five years.

CWAG’s Family Care Consumer Corp Training will educate attendees on issues involved in implementing Wisconsin’s Family Care long-term care delivery system and help mobilize them to provide input into the implementation process. In addition to raising awareness of critical issues, this training session will work toward the creation of an on-going means of educating and motivating older people and people with disabilities to provide consumer input into the new Family Care system.

“Overwhelmingly, older people have told us that health and long-term care issues top the list of their concerns,” said Tom Frazier, CWAG Executive Director. “As a result, CWAG has strongly supported this expansion and we feel it is critical that older people and people with disabilities be educated and able to participate in the process of structuring Family Care locally.”

A second day of training will be scheduled at a later date. The training can only accommodate a limited number of people. If you are interested in registering to attend CWAG’s Family Care Consumer Corp Training or need special accommodations, please contact Glenna Schumann at 800-366-2990, ext. 326 or e-mail: glennas@cwag.org . Registrations are due by June 22, 2007.

-###-

The Coalition of Wisconsin Aging Groups is a statewide federation of more than 600 member organizations that represent and serve Wisconsin's older citizens. A non-profit, non-partisan group, CWAG provides information on matters of concern to the elderly and represents the older citizens of Wisconsin on major civic and political issues. An estimated 125,000 individuals belong to CWAG member groups located throughout Wisconsin. Additional information on CWAG can be obtained by calling 1-800-366-2990 or by going online to www.cwag.org.